

Joining ISSBD

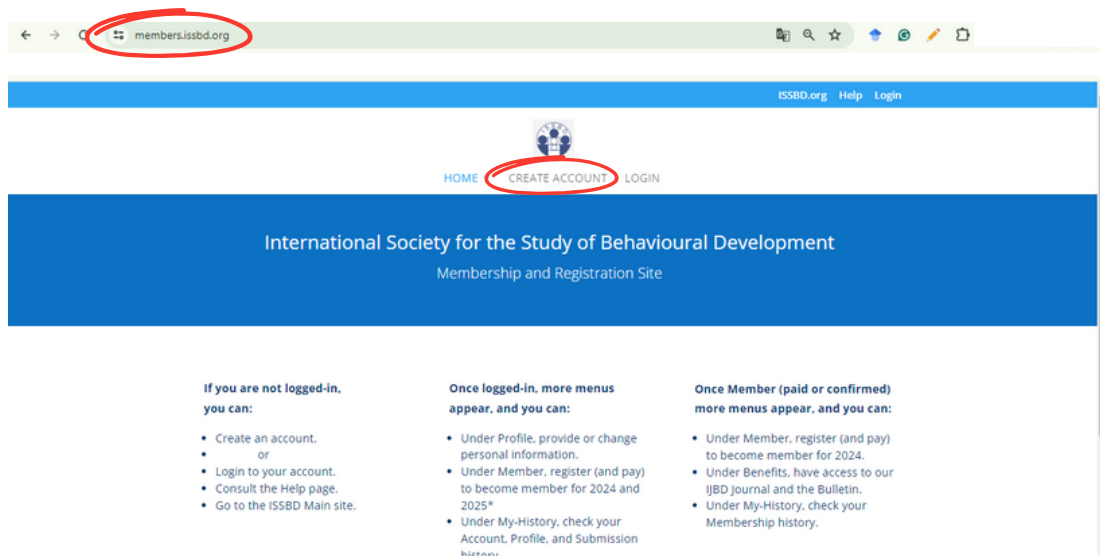

ISSBD now has a new membership registration system.
All members are kindly requested to create an account on this new website.

Joining or renewing your membership only takes 3 steps:

1

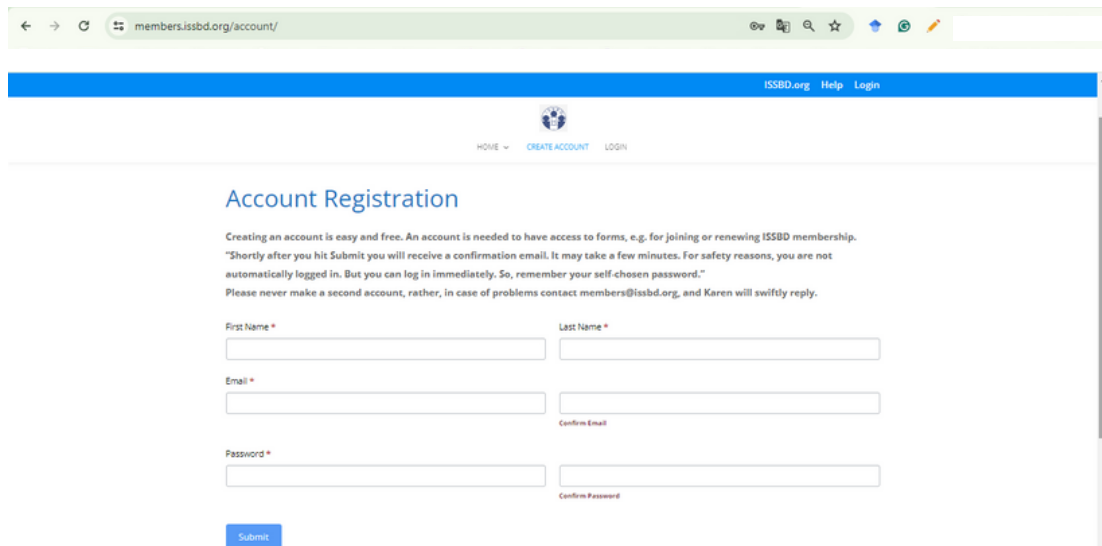

Make an Account

Visit our website at members.issbd.org and click on the CREATE ACCOUNT button.

Follow the instructions to set up a new personal account with a new password.

If you were registered in the old system (SAGE), once you enter your email address, most fields will be prefilled.

Now you can LOG IN to your new account with your recent email and password.

2

Set up your Profile

Inside your account, you will have a menu with more options. Take a moment to complete your PROFILE with your affiliation and address. All information can be updated always.

Don't forget to let us know if you want to receive paper copies of the International Journal of Behavioural Development and the Bulletins for members. You will find this option at the bottom of your Profile.

Activate your Membership

Lastly, from your new account, you can confirm your earlier payments for your membership or proceed with a new payment to join ISSBD, according to your situation.

Go to MEMBER and choose the year you want to subscribe.

* Have you already paid your membership through our previous administration office (SAGE)?

If yes, we kindly ask you to confirm your payment using your new account. This quick process ensures accurate record-keeping and there are no new costs involved.

* Have you already paid your 2024 membership or later years?

If this is your case, please go through the activation process for each year separately, which only requires a few more clicks to complete.

* Do you still need to make a payment?

Please note that the new system accepts credit card payments only (not necessarily in your name). Upon successful processing, you should promptly receive an email confirmation, along with a receipt.
